Confidence in Prayer

Many Christians are reluctant to prayer for various reasons. Perhaps we feel a bit self-conscious at times, especially praying in public. Maybe we compare our prayers with the prayers of others, who seem to be more articulate. But prayer, in the Christian life, is as important and natural as breathing. Think about it for a moment. What is the first thing that babies do after being born? They breathe. When it comes to our spiritual rebirth in Christ, prayer is like a baby's breath. What is important to God is not the eloquence of our speech, or the amount of time we spend in prayer. God's desire is that we have open, honest, and heartfelt communication with him. Prayer is an expression of our dependence on God.

The Apostle John offers guidance in prayer in 1 John 5:14-15. He writes, "This is the confidence we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us. And if we know that he hears us—whatever we ask—we know that we have what we asked of him." How did John arrive at such confidence? It is likely that John's view on prayer is formed on the basis of Jesus' own teaching about prayer, much of which is recorded in John's Gospel. Jesus says, "And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it" (John 14:13-14). Certainly Christians should not assume that God will grant just anything he or she might ask for. The qualification for answered prayers, according to John, is that we must pray not according to our own selfish wishes but rather according to God's will.

Interestingly, there are many verses that speak so clearly about the Christian's attitude to be confident in prayer. In 1 John 3, John says "Dear friends, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence before God and receive from him anything we ask" (vv. 21-22a). But there is a qualification there as well, for the verses immediately go on to add, "because we obey his commands and do what pleases him" (v. 22b).

These verses say a great deal about the nature of prayer. Probably in most people's minds prayer is regarded as the means by which God's will is changed, or at least enlarged to include the concerns of the one praying. According to these verses, prayer is not so much about getting God to pay attention to our requests, as it is getting our requests to align with his perfect and desirable will for us. Prayer is learning to think about God's thoughts and truths, such that we delight in him. When we truly delight in the Lord, our thoughts and desires are changed. Prayer, rightfully considered, is not just asking God to fulfil our own desires, but a means by which our desires may be transformed according to the will of God. Prayer, even more than just talking to God, is listening to him.

The Gospel & the Kingdom of God

This class will explore further the important question - what is the Gospel? If we understand the Gospel as Paul defines it in 1 Cor 15:3-4 - the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ - it naturally begs the question if Jesus preached the Gospel.

We know from the four gospel accounts that Jesus preached the Kingdom of God. Is the Gospel according to Paul different from the Gospel according to Jesus? Some Christian leaders would go so far as to say that "I don't believe in the Pauline gospel, but I believe in the Kingdom gospel."

Understanding the Gospel presupposes a certain way of reading the Bible storyline. In this class, we will discuss:

- how to read the synoptic gospel accounts,
- the nature of the Kingdom of God, and
- how to reconcile the apparent tension between the Pauline gospel and the Kingdom gospel when it comes to sharing the good news with others.

NOMINATION & ELECTION OF ELDERS AND DEACONS

Session is calling for an election of Elders and Deacons to be held on Sunday, 28 May 2023. Those elected will serve a three-year term from 1 July 2023.

ORPC members are entitled to nominate other ORPC members who have been serving faithfully in ORPC and demonstrated leadership qualities, for election as Elders or Deacons.

The closing date for nominations is Sunday, 16 April 2023.

Session will interview all candidates with their spouses (if any). Those who qualify and are deemed to be suitable nominees will be recommended and announced to the congregation on three Sundays (7, 14, 21 May 2023) prior to the election date.

To be duly elected, candidates must receive at least (a) two-thirds of the votes cast for Elders and (b) half of the votes cast for Deacons.

WHAT DO ELDERS AND DEACONS DO?

Elders and Deacons are voluntary office bearers in the Congregation. They join the pastoral staff in pastoral leadership and oversight, oversee the management of ORPC, assist in the administration of ORPC and in all matters concerning the building-up and growth of ORPC.

Elders serve primarily in Session and may also be appointed to the Board of Management (BoM). Session is the final decision-making body in ORPC and has particular responsibility for the spiritual mission and growth of ORPC.

Deacons serve in the BoM and have particular responsibility for the pastoral care of God's people and for managing the material resources of ORPC to serve its spiritual mission.

WHO CAN BE NOMINATED AND ELECTED?

- Elders and Deacons must meet the biblical qualifications according to 1 Timothy 3:1-13 and Titus 1:6-9.
- Nominees must be communicant members of ORPC for more than three years.
- All nominees are expected to have served in at least one area of ministry in ORPC for a minimum period of one year prior to being nominated.
- Elders must have served for at least one term of three years as a Deacon.
- Spouses of Elders and Deacons must also be communicant members of ORPC. Divorcees and those with previously-divorced spouses do not qualify for nomination.

- Elders and Deacons must assent to the basic creeds and confessions of the Presbyterian Church, the Apostles' Creed, the Westminster Confession of Faith, the Constitution of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Singapore and the Constitution of ORPC.
- Elders and Deacons must attend regular Session/BoM meetings, congregational monthly prayer meetings, ministry/committee meetings as assigned, leaders' retreats, annual and extraordinary congregational meetings. They must also share in pastoral visitation and undertake other duties relevant to their office and other assigned responsibilities as decided from time to time.

HOW TO NOMINATE?

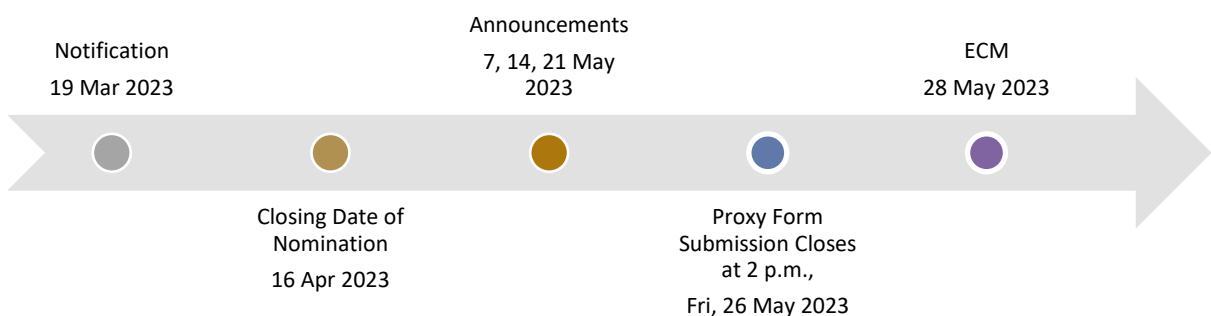

Elders and Deacons must be proposed and seconded by other communicant members of ORPC.

A member who wants to nominate another member should first check the eligibility of that other member (please see above) before making any nomination.

The proposer needs a seconder for the nomination. After both the proposer and the seconder have signed the nomination form, the nominee must sign the form to confirm his/her consent to the nomination.

Nomination forms are available on our website or the Church Office. All completed nomination forms must be submitted, for the attention of the Session Clerk, to the English Congregation Executive (yongpingping@orpc.org.sg) by Sunday, 16 April 2023.
